GRANITE CITY — The short-tern plan for the city's sewer break problem will consist of bypass pum-ping and a grouting program until a new sewer system can be con-structed.

sewer system can be con-structed. In a budget briefing Monday night, Alderman Jake Varadian, chairman of the finance committee, told coun-cilmen a plan for the sewer breaks discussed by city officials that

UNDER THE BUDGET proposal, the city had allocated $1.2 million for repair of sewer breaks. But Varadian said this figure will

But Varadian said this figure will be changed. City officials proposed that half of the figure, $600,000, be used for purchase of a jet truck, a TV truck and materials needed for the grouting program, for bypass pumping and for repair of a sewer break on Alexander Street.

The money will also be used for salaries of the six street department workers hired specifically for sewer breaks. OF THE $600,000 left, the officials

OF THE $600,000 left, the officials proposed that part of the money be used to balance the city budget and that the rest of the money be put in a fund for reconstruction of sewer breaks and for emergencies.
"We're $206,000 over with this $1.2 million in the budget," Mayor Von

Dee Cruse said. "We talked about balancing the budget first and then we talked about coming up with a plan for the reconstruction of the sewer system."

Cruse said no sewer breaks other Cruse said no sewer breaks other than the one on Alexander Street will be repaired unless an emergency situation arises. He said the break on Alexander is in need of repair since it is in the roadway. ALDERMAN JEFF Worthen, 7th

Ward, asked Cruse why there was no mention of a $500,000 grant from the state's Build Illinois program in the state's punc-sewer budget.

Cruse said he was skeptical about iving the money

the city receiving the money.

"We were supposed to get $300,000 last year for sewer repairs from the state, but we never received it,"

Cruse said. "I wouldn't count on the $500,000 until we get it."

CRUSE NOTED earlier that

Henry Bieniecki, assistant to the mayor, is nearly ready to give a long-term recommendation for the sewer breaks. He said Bieniecki has been discussing the problem with several engineering firms.

The city council was to discuss the budget on sewer breaks further at Tuesday night's council meeting. (See the Thursday Press-Record for more information.)

Housing units planned by Army

CONSTRUCTION of 70 to 100 housing units is planned in Granite City by the St. Louis Area Support Center, the Army installation known locally as the depot. The units are to be built on 80 acres currently used for helicopter exercises. Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols said the land would be of more benefit to the Tri-Cities Area if it was used by private industry. Housing units, he said, mean no future jobs.

Sewer break plan requested

SEWER BREAK PROBLEMS in Granite City will be dealt with, at least on a temporary basis. City Council members directed city officials to develop a solution to the continuing sewer break problem by the council's July 23 meeting. The council opined sewer breaks could more effectively be dealt with if the city has a plan for dealing with them. Fifth Ward Alderman Jake Varadian said because the city does not have a sewer break repair plan, it appears the city is doing nothing about them.

Senior forum to be reslated

A SENIOR FORUM, requested by some senior citizens of Granite City Township, is to be reset after Township Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer failed to meet with the seniors. Hagnauer had a prior engagement: Trustee Jake Varadian sungested that City Clerk Robert Stevens call Hagnauer and set up another meeting, contingent on Hagnauer being available some time during the next week.

Kish investigation continuing

GLITTERING KISH, a material of unknown origination that rains down upon sidewalks and vehicles in Granite City, poses no health problems to city residents, Granite City Mayor Von Dee Cruse learned Thursday, Cruse was also updated on efforts by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency to determine the source of the tiny kish flakes. Henry Bieniecki, assistant to the mayor, said of the IEPA, "They know it's coming from Granite City Steel." Bieniecki said the company and the IEPA are cooperating to find the location and cause of the kish fallout.

National City seeking raceway

NATIONAL CITY and St. Louis International Raceway of-ficials are discussing a friendly annexation plan. National Ci-ty reportedly wants the land to increase its tax base, which amounts to about $450,000 annually. The city consists of slight-ly more than 100 residents. A city official stated track officials also favor the annexation, but no track official could be reach-ed for comment. The city of Madison tried unsuccessfully earlier this year to annex the track.

Is he really worth $1 per year

HE'S A DEAL at twice the price, is the way many in Granite City might jokingly view Henry Bleniecki, the new assistant to the mayor. Paid the outrageous sum of $1 per year, his position surprisingly involves plenty of work. What kind of man works a year for a dollar? Pick up a copy of the Press-Record-Journal Sunday to find out.

Quote of the week

"THERE WAS A lieutenant colonel there and he ordered me to help roll" the bombs out of the fire. That's how I volunteered for the job." This quote, from Granite City resident Jim Gibbs, describes the action he undertook in a burning railroad car in France during World War II, in 1945. Forty years later, he received the Soldier's and Bronze Star medals for his act of heroism.

Extra budget funds to go for city street repairs

Mac Warfield said the cost for surfacing a 200-foot long, 32-foot wide section of street is $2,400 for materials alone. Warfield agreed that a $30,000 allocation for each ward would not go far.

Alderman Paul Fisk said he would be in favor of spending the MFT money to krepair streets in the downlown area.

"We are already making plans to revitalize the area with the hiring of a city coordinator," Fisk said. "I think the repair of the streets along with the revitalization in the downlown will benefit the entire city."

Reagan's new advisor brings joy to some

There was joy at the "Cuomo in '88" headquarters. Political como's political carriers, said, "did political carriers, said, "la sa that?" I said.

"He has to pretend he is. But behind closed doors he's thrill-ed that Buchanan has selected him as his No. 1 target. Any Democratic candidate would give his eyetooth to be on the receiving end of so much name-calling."

"I'm sure Pat isn't doing it just to get Cuomo nominated in 1988," I said.
"Maybe ves. maybe no.

Maybe yes, maybe no. We're not about to find out what causes Buchanan's temper tantrums. Listen to this from Pat, 'Cuomo's incessant invocations of the poor, the downtrodden, the ill, almost invariably turn up as preambles to budget requests that would augment the power of his own political class — the welfare statists."

'What are welfare statists."

What are wellare statists?"
"I imagine they are people in a state of welfare. The way we figure it, Buchanan con-siders Cuomo the President's siders Cuomo the President's most formidable enemy when it comes to tax reform. Reagan no longer wants to make state and city taxes deductible. If the governor can rally support to permit people to keep their state and local tax deductions, it would be a big defeat for the White House. That's why Burchana is resorted.

"The tax reform mean a lot to Pat."
"Frankly, the believes Buchanan couldn't care less about tax reform except that it gives the President an opportunity to go out on the stump and maintain he's fighting a lonely battle against Washington. But the White House still needs a real person to attack. So Pat has declared Gov. Cuomo the Administration's No. 1 Democratic devil. Gary. Hart should be so lucky."

Gary Hart should be so lucky."

"It's hard to believe that Buchanan, as smart as he is, would help Cuomo run for President.

"All I know is what I read in the papers," Bellweather said. "Let me read more of Buchanan, Your Governor is a statist, instinctively hostile to the idea that the peoperture. a statist, instructively hostie to the idea that the people can manage themselves, instinctively cordial to the aggrandizement of government power. This President is a standing affront to that kind of politician. Later on he says, 'Now we approach the wellsprings of Marion Cuomo's seemingly inchoate rage. The dirty little secret of the American Left is that it is interested in power, not people.'"

"That's strong stuff,' I said.

"On the contrary. We're trying to find ways of making Pat keep it up until '88. We want all his bile to be directed at Cuomo for the next two and a half years."

"Suppose Buchanan realizes he's helping the governor and not hurting him. Do you think he'll then knock it off?"

ne'll then knock it off?"

"Not Pat. He's an ideological slugger, and Cuomo is a great target for him. If we blanned our campaign to bring the governor along to this stage, we couldn't have done it any better. As far as the Democrats are concerned, any one who gets Pat Buchanan upset has to be ond helluva guy."

"Not to worry. Everyone knows that Pat has a short fuse. The more rage he shows the less people will take him seriously. From our viewpoint he can do no wrong. We're so grateful to him that when Buchanan gets canned for putting his foot in his mouth, we're going to ask him to work for us."

GC OKs building requests

Two construction variances were approved by members of the Granite City Board of Appeals last week.

The first variance went to Kenneth Aud of 3249 Carlson Ave. for con-struction of a 10x44-foot carport, patio and tool shed, to be built one inch from his property line. Aud told the board the structure would be built of wood and aluminum. There were no objectors.

The other variance was issued to bebra Sue Counts of 2416 Missouri Ave., for construction of a 16x25-600 carport to be built 18 inches from the property line. There was some discussion concerning the structure but there were no objectors.

Crossing guard positions open

Granite City is now accepting ap-plications for the positions of cross-ing guards. Working hours will include three one-hour shifts (morning, lunch, and afternoon) at school crossing in-tersections. The pay-is $4.50 per-day. Applicants must be in good health and will be required to take a

Quinn pushing for Illinois consumer insurance board

Patrick Quinn is doing it again. Commissioner of the Cook County Board of Tex Appeals and the key member of the Illinois Coalition for Politfeal Honesty, he has launched another statewide campaign. This time, the goal is to create a Con-sumers Insurance Board (CIB) in Il-

"THE AVERAGE FAMILY spends at least 10 percent of its budget on insurance every year.

"Despite the importance of insurance to virtually every Illinois family, consumers never have had an effective voice in state regulation of insurance.

The relentless increase in in-urance rates is exceeded only by complaints to the Illinois Depart-nent of Insurance from exasperated ment of them age, to consumers.

"IT IS NOT surprising that upon its retirement, former Illinois supreme Court Justice Walter schaefer maintained that the regulation of insurance companies is one of the weakest spots in our state reverament."

Quinn said an Illinois consumers insurance board would be an effi-cient way for individual consumers to pool their efforts into a group with the "resources and muscle to take on the multi-billion dollar insurance on the muni-binion industry."

Under his proposal, the proposed board's independent experts would suggest lough standards for the insurance industry, campaign for consumer reforms, and "unravel the many mysteries of the industry for consumers."

986 comes early to the city of Vancouver, B.C.

If you're planning a cruise up the Inside Passage this year, give ydurself a treat and add a few extra days for Vancouver and a preview of the gigantic exposition they're planning for 1986.

Not that you need a fantatic fait to visit Vancouver at sturyly in the world—but the exposition promises to be very special, and the part that's already there and open to the public will give you a better feeling for what's still to come. A stop now will help you land for next year, too.

Expo '86 began as the brainchild of British Columbia in 1978. It coincides with Vancouver's centennial and the 100th anniversary of the trancontinental railroad's arrival at Canada's west coast terminal. A great international exposition of the part of the property of the trancontinental railroad's arrival at Canada's west coast terminal.
